NEW SHOW AT THE AUDITORIUM

For the last three days of this week an entire new bill of vaudeville and pictures is offered. The headline featpictures is offered. The headline feature for this occasion is a sparkling comedy act that should create much favorable comment, and it is entitled Too Many Darlings. The people who present this delightful little comedy are Joseph Maddlern and Katherine Nugent, both of whom are known to the profession as being high-class performers.

Frank Leslie, the original Dago Kid, will offer his clover character imper-sonations in his own inimitable style, and if his efforts are apprecited here, as well as they have been in other citties, he should be a pronounced hit. The third act is Lillian Bender, presenting a combination musical and a singing specialty that is refined and pleasing

The pictures for today are all features, and each and every one is in a class by itself. The Gun Men, one of the famous Flying A, is a story of the west, that contains some of the most magnificent photography ever seen.
Warren Kerrigan, the handsomest man appearing in any film, takes the leading part. The Torn Scarf, a Rex film, is a fine example of an artistic plot perfectly portrayed and faultlessly produced.

It is the intention of the manage-ment of the Auditorium to make their pictures the finest in the country, and if they keep up at the rate they are going they will surely succeed, as the films are growing better every day.

Ladies, be sure and get your spoon coupons, as the spoons are going fast, as every lady who has seen the spoons wants a set.

BREED THEATER.

The popular old Breed theater was again filled to capacity last night the very attractive programme appealing to all and proving especially successto all and proving especially successful. The great and beautiful story entitled Gypsy Honor, is perhaps the strongest picture on the bill, and tells of a wealth man, who befriends a young gypsy girl from the attack of an over-zealous officer of the law. Later, the man visits the girl's camp to make some purchases, and upon leaving, is attacked by some of the male element of the camp, who have seen his purse, and he is robbed and thrown down an embankment. In looking over plunder, they are seen by the girl who recognizes the purse, and steals out to save her gallant rescuer. She finds him after much searching and rescues him, after a teriffic struggle with the villafus. Then the search begins for the balance of the tribe and a particularly interesting and exciting scene, is where they have terms. The great and beautiful story ing and exciting scene, is where they break camp, and fiee to a point of parety. They are not successful, however, and are overtaken by the sheriff and his corps of able cowboy assist-ents, who engage in a fierce fight, in which the gypsies are overcome, and thoroughly punished.

The picture entitled Shipwrecked, is another great picture achievement and another great picture achievement, and as a basis and background to its ac-tion, shows a great steel-clad ocean liner on the rocks.

AT POLI'S.

This afternoon the Poli Players will give their second matinee performance of "Sky Farm," and this will leave but one more matinee for the week, Saturday afternoon. This popular old play has attracted the largest crowds of the season thus far, and there seems little doubt that the balance of the week will establish new attendance records. The advance sale is extremely heavy and is growing daily, those who have already seen it sending in others by their enthusiastic praise of both the company and the play. Tonight Jewett City will send a crowd, the regular Thursday night car service being in effect after the performmake one of the most sensational productions yet made here, a play that has never been seen in Norwich, and one that was a craze in New York for the whole of season before last. This is the last play written by the late Clyde Fitch, "The City," and it was not produced until its author was in his grave. He never lived to see the play that entitles him to a place he his grave. He never lived to see the play that entitles him to a place beside the greatest dramatists that ever lived. There never has been another play like it and for tremendous power and sensational effect its extraordinary second act has never been equaled. To accommodate the demands of the public, a matines will be given every day, and this policy will be continued through the balance of the season. On Monday afternoon handsome souvenirs of Miss Helaine Hadley will be presented to the ladies attending the matine. The prices will remain the same and all seats on the lower floor will be reserved. They are now on sale and may be engaged by telephone.

SUFFER LITTLE CHILDREN.

What is your answer to the wan, young fales, You who deny them gladness on His day-The right to romp in God's good open places, Nor leave the children anywhere to play?

You wise ol 1 men, with silly, solemn What will you say to Him of this, your service,
Who drive the children to the outer ways?

What if their childish laughter drown your sermons.

If their glad mirth make weary mothers smile;

If, in their respite from a week of labor.

bor, They should forget their work and you awhile? Think you will God be glad and smile upon you,
Who rob the brave, wee merchants
of the street
Of this, His day, He gave them unto gladness,
To fill their throats
clear and sweet?

One prayer to stay the vengeance, and To save from wrath for this bleek, deed you do—
Thus prayed the Christ who died alone

and lonely,
"Forgive them, for they know now
what they do." You who would bar the gateways of their gladness, Grudgingly given from God's good domain;
Beware lest at the end of this, your madness,
